In the Black HQ™ allows the head office management of retail chains to consolidate data from multiple stores for a complete view of the enterprise. Transaction data is "trickled" through from the terminals as created along with other record types such as customer and employee details, system messages and inventory updates allowing an almost on-line view of store activity.

Inventory and customer data can be viewed, analyzed and shared across your entire business. Powerful reporting allows you to "drill down" to specific transactions, customer sales or item movement. Evaluate sales and trends in each department, category or store. Make informed decisions based on up to date accurate information.

ITB HQ™ supports on-line inquiry for customer sales data and loyalty points allowing superior service and ensuring accurate frequent shopper pricing.

Manage communications and updates centrally with our integrated In The Black™ Scheduler application. This robust system is used to perform time sensitive operations distributing software and database changes automatically. Used at both HQ and store level Scheduler can be used to execute local or remote store applications, transmit files to and from stores, conduct backups and EOD functions. The system is highly configurable and can process multiple simultaneous requests.

Merchandise management includes a complete stock transfer and reconciliation system. Store level on hand, on order and in-transit values are maintained and reported on. Inventory and cycle counts can be managed centrally with adjustment reporting. A detailed item movement journal is maintained which tracks all inventory changes.
